Esther Graber has just turned sixteen. Finally, she can start going to the youth gatherings. Her overactive imagination has helped to create the perfect social life, one that will lead to marriage and family. There is just one thing standing in her way-it's Esther and her ability to attract crazy problems. Isacc Weaver arrives in the spring to help his uncle Daniel and aunt Mariam with their farm. He seems to be attracting a lot of attention from the young ladies in Esther's church community. Esther wants Isacc all to herself though. She plans to be courting by the time she has gone to her first singing. That is, if she can manage to avoid a catastrophe. Esther's life starts to take a turn as she starts to uncover a family secret, one that was to remain hidden from her forever. Esther's family is important, but there are still questions to be answered and a life's dream to fulfill. Will Esther leave a family and community she dearly loves to live her dream and seek the answers her heart so desperately needs? Will she ever get to a singing and a ride home in Isacc's courting buggy?
